

WILL START WORKING ON CITY WHARF NEXT WEEK

Healy Says Dredging Operations Will Be Begun on Municipal Project in Few Days.

On one day next week the Healy-Tibbitts Construction Company, which has been awarded the contract for the construction of municipal wharf number 1, will start dredging operations on the site of the wharf. This was the statement made last night by William Healy, one of the members of the firm. It is expected that the dredging will take about a month. The dredger will be brought from San Francisco during the present week.

Immediately after the city signs the contract, work will proceed. Healy affixed his signature to the contract yesterday, and forwarded the document to the city for Mayor Garrard's signature, which will be obtained by next Monday at the latest.

During the time that the dredging is in progress, rock will be thrown in on the site of the wharf, and workmen will construct the concrete piles that are to be installed later. The piles must be at least 30 days before they are put in. The material will all be tested by the city's engineers.

OPEN HOUSE AT RICHMOND CLUB NEXT TUESDAY

Completing Arrangements for Day When Club Will Be Host to Entire City.

Mrs. Walter G. Braine, who is chairman of the committee to arrange for the open house of the Richmond Club, to be held on Tuesday, March 16, in the magnificent new club house, is fast completing all arrangements for the day.

The women of the club will be hostesses to the entire city between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock and 8 and 11 o'clock p. m. During both afternoon and evening a program will be rendered, and light refreshments will be served.

A sanding machine was at work on the floors of the handsome new structure yesterday. When the date for the big open house arrives, everything will be ready for the reception of the hundreds of guests.

The women will show their guests throughout the building, explaining to what use each of the rooms will be put.

APRIL 3 TO BE HOLIDAY IS PLAN

HARTNETT'S HAT IN THE RING: FILES PAPERS

Councilman J. N. Hartnett has hurried his hat in the local political ring once again, and is to come before the people of the city at the municipal election to ask that he be re-elected. Hartnett yesterday filed his nomination petition in compliance with the law, with City Clerk Davis. Eighty-one names were required to be on the petition. Davis found by count that Hartnett had 92 signers to his petition. Hartnett's papers were the first to be filed by any candidate for the council at the coming election.

Others are expected to follow within a few days.

WORKING ON ELECTION BOARDS

City to Be Divided Into Twelve Precincts Instead of Twenty-Four, As Before.

For both the primary and general municipal elections, City Clerk Davis plans to divide the city into twelve precincts, instead of having 24 precincts in the city, as there were at the last general and primary elections. In some instances three precincts will be combined into one, in others two into one, and in others the precincts will remain as they are.

The task of picking the election boards is up to Davis. He plans to have an equal number of men and women on each election board. In the primary election the board will consist of one judge, one clerk, one inspector and two clerks. In the general election the boards will be made up of two judges, two inspectors and two clerks.

Davis stated last night that if there are any duly qualified electors, male or female, who want to sit on the boards, he will be pleased to hear from them. Their applications for the jobs will be taken into consideration if they notify him or write him a letter at their earliest convenience. By next Monday night he plans to present the names of those on the election boards to the council for its approval.

COMMISSIONER EXPLAINS TO GRAND JURY

The Grand Jury held another busy session yesterday at Martinez. John Birmingham, Exposition commissioner, was up before the body to explain, it is said, the expenditure of $9000 for the Contra Costa exhibit. S. A. Marshall was also up before the body.

Joe Machado of San Pablo, Frank Sweet, Thomas Duane and George Upham, all of Alhambra valley, also testified. Their testimony, it is said, had to do with the hiring of road overseers for work that supervisors should do. That one, if not two or three, indictments will be returned by the jury is predicted.

FORM LEAGUE FOR LABEL AT LARGE MEETING

Forty Women Sign Membership Roll; Success of Organization Is Assured.

The Richmond Women's Union Label League was launched last night at a big meeting in the auditorium of the Lincoln school.

At the conclusion of the meeting forty women signed up to become members of the new organization. That a membership as big as that should be secured the first meeting was not hoped for by the most enthusiastic of those who planned the meeting.

At the next meeting of the Central Labor Council the date for the meeting of these women pledged to become members will be decided upon. Officers will be elected at that meeting.

Sarah Hagan, Maude Younger, Mrs. Geoghegan and Emil Guth were the principal speakers at the mass meeting. Newton Jarvis of the Stationary Engineers' Union was chairman.

Miss Younger gave a keenly interesting account of her part in the great strike of the Garment Workers in New York City, when she was arrested for picketing. She told of the conditions that the women in that industry were combating.

Miss Sarah Hagan of the Garment Workers' Union of San Francisco said that many merchants sell only the product of the unsanitary sweatshops in the East, and that a demand for the label would increase the output of California clothing firms that pay fair wages and grant decent working conditions. She charged that much work is done in Chinatown, where the workmen sleep on the material that later goes into the making of garments. She declared that physicians had found that diseases have been carried from these unsanitary shops to the buyers.

Both Emil Guth and Mrs. Geoghegan made very interesting talks. The Richmond Concert Band pleased the crowd with some exceptional music.

GYPSIES NOT WANTED IN 3 BAY COUNTIES

One county, San Mateo, recently drove out a band of 300 gypsies that invaded its confines, another county, San Francisco, refused to allow the nomads to linger there, and a third county, Contra Costa, has decided that the small army of fortune tellers and Hallelujah subjects must move on.

Several days ago the band located in Stage. Its members at once began to annoy residents of that community. The climax was reached last night, when complaints were made to Constable Fred Davis that many of the women of Stage were afraid to venture from their homes or allow their children to go out because of the gypsies.

Davis has reached the decision that the band must move on. He does not propose to drive them further into Contra Costa county. He will make them go back over the line into Alameda county. The order to move on will be delivered to the leaders of the band by Davis this morning. If his commands are not complied with he will have no difficulty in calling the aid of enough anxious fathers of Stage to see that they are carried out to the letter.

Two weeks ago San Pablo women were frightened by the encroachments of a small band of the wanderers into the suburban community. When one of the women in the gypsy camp was convicted and fined for robbing a Mexican section hand, Constable Motson, cleared the town of the nomads.

ARGUE TENTH STREET CASE BEFORE COURT

Owners of Property Testify Before Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie.

Condemnation proceedings on the widening of Tenth street South were argued by City Attorney D. J. Hall and Attorney A. Edward Bell of San Francisco and Wilbur S. Pierce, representing Tenth street property owners, in Superior Judge McKenzie's court at Martinez yesterday. A number of property holders on Tenth street take exception to the report of the commissioners, stating that the valuation on their property is not placed high enough.

C. D. Oherety, owner of property at Tenth and Cutting, and D. Bell, who owns land at Tenth and Ohio, were two of the protestants who were on the stand yesterday.

The hearing on the matter will be continued today, and City Attorney Hall said last night on his return from Martinez that he hopes to have the matter concluded and ready to submit to the court by tomorrow night.

Prominent Men From San Francisco and Other Cities At Initiation.

The Chief's degree was conferred on a class of 14 members of Onatch Tribe of Red Men last night. Tocomash degree team No. 63 of Oakland put on the work and were highly praised for the manner in which they exemplified the work of the order. The Oakland team was captained by Earl Burnett.

A banquet was served following the initiation. Among those present were Robert L. Lincoln of San Francisco, Great Sachem of the California Red Men; Porter L. Bliss, also of San Francisco, and who is Great Keeper of the Records; Frank M. Dickey, Great Trustee, of Vallejo; W. J. McDonald, stated drill master, of Stockton.

J. Kennedy Polls Big Vote In East

James Kennedy, president of the local Pottery Union, is known and liked among the members of his craft from one end of the county to the other.

Yesterday he received a telegram from friends in Trenton, N. J., the center of the pottery industry, advising him that he had polled over 50 per cent of the votes at an election held to choose the delegate to the A. F. of L. from the international. There were 20 Trenton candidates in the field to go to the convention, which will be held in San Francisco. The membership of the Trenton local is over 1000.

DEFEND PORK BARREL AT CAPITOL

Uniting with fifty other supervisors from thirty counties in this state, Supervisors Trythall and Buchanan of Contra Costa county were in attendance at the meeting held in Sacramento yesterday, which was held for the purpose of protesting against proposed road legislation.

The supervisors, who met at Sacramento yesterday, voted their opposition to taking the present county highway system out of the hands of the Boards of Supervisors. Among these protestants were Trythall and Buchanan. Some of the supervisors thought that a change in the present system will mean an increase in overhead expense. Others contended that inasmuch as the supervisors are the men who raise the tax levies for road work, they should be left to spend the money.

And Trythall and Buchanan were there.

Many other supervisors who want to reward friends for political favors were there, too.

Does their presence at the meeting mean that they are among those who are putting up a fight against proposed road measures that will mean better roads at less expense than the people are getting now?

Are Trythall and Buchanan afraid that if pending road legislation, taking road matters out of boards of supervisors' hands, passes their power will be curtailed, and they will have to find other means with which to repay past favors?

Roads questions are agitating nearly every county in this state. Useful expenditure on highways is a matter that the Grand Jury of Contra Costa county is taking up. When Buchanan and Trythall journeyed to Sacramento to aid the other protestants, did they do it with the sanction of the people of this county, or did they take the trip for personal reasons, to save a little of their political pay?

See the point? What's the answer?

NAME COMMITTEE TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

George Hutton and F. T. Pohley were initiated into the Modern Woodmen last night. The local team put on the work. Wells, Perry Sisson and M. J. Arnold.

The principal address was made by Frank M. Dickey, who impressed his hearers by remarks on the work of the Red Men.

On the banquet committee were D. J. Ewols, H. F. Chapman (chairman), W. G. Casey, Onatch Tribe will be entertained Friday night at a dance to be given by Tocomash Tribe.

City Officials and Friends of Wall Take Part In Silly Pre-Election Bluff. Voters Not Present

With a brass band and oratorical fireworks, George S. Wall, ably assisted by the city officials, yesterday morning elaborated on his bluff.

High powered automobiles, filled with eminent characters of the city and county and well known Richmond patriots who live in San Francisco and Oakland; $3.50 worth of redwood lumber on a wagon and a brass band, made up the parade that wound through the streets of the city out across the prairies to Wall's City Hall site.

There was much enthusiasm amongst those in the automobiles. Those that watched the parade did not seem to enthuse worth a cent. "Gifts" with strings as big as ships' hawsers tied to them didn't seem to appeal to most of the people that were forced to watch their city officials take part in the start of a lot-selling campaign for the fattening of George S. Wall's pocketbook.

It was funny—lawyers, a judge, councilmen, other city officials, not to except a mayor.

Attorney Lee D. Windrem, well known by the union men of Richmond, was master of ceremonies after the inspiring parade had reached the site.

Close to one hundred people gathered to hear the speeches. Six of them were non-union cement workers, who were working on the sidewalk leading up to the site. Eighty-five of them were city officials and followers of Wall, and the rest were the enthusiastic populace.

Windrem said Wall saw his duty and did it. He said it was very hard for Wall to persuade himself to offer the site. He praised the judgment of the council. He then introduced Mayor Garrard, the well known orator, with the remark that he was the man that had worked unceasingly for the Wall site. That didn't seem to surprise anybody.

Garrard told the crowd the history of the site selection. He told of the good work done by Senator Owens. He said that he was overwhelmed when he learned that Wall, out of the goodness of his heart, was ready to donate a site. He said that while a lot of stuff had been written about other offers, there wasn't anything to them. When he had finished the ocean breeze blew enthusiastically and the sea gulls called for an encore.

Miss Edith Wilbur followed the mayor. Wall came next. He was mercilessly brief. He explained that it was the first city hall he had ever built. He said he had faith in the city, etc., etc.

The whole affair was nauseating. The people, who are the owners of the city hall, didn't attend the ceremony. They had no part in the selection. The council had turned down other and better offers, offers with no strings to them, to accept Wall's.

The people don't want the city hall a long distance from the center of population and street car lines. The district around the Wall site is very sparsely settled, if one excepts the grazing cows. There is no reason under the sun for locating the city hall of a city as big as Richmond on a site like Wall's property.

Much of the work leading up to the ceremony of yesterday was pretty coarse. Pictures have been published in local papers of a city hall building that couldn't possibly be built for less than five times $15,000.

Other and better offers have been disregarded. The city is getting nothing free from Wall. The city will pay rent, high rent, for occupying the building. Other offers were made to build a hall costing $25,000 to be occupied rent free.

The people were disregarded. Everybody knows that if an election were held 90 per cent of the voters would vote against the Wall site. That's why an election was fought.

And it was all capped by the childish parade yesterday. It isn't probable that the city hall will ever be built on Wall's site.

It isn't any more probable than the fulfillment of Wall's boast that he will put the Daily News out of business before July 1, no matter what it costs him.

The Supreme Court has granted the famous case a rehearing. No decision has been reached by that court yet. Wall wants to sell lots between now and the date of the ending of the litigation.

To sell lots is Wall's business. Nobody is criticizing him for that. But to use the city officials, in spite of the wishes of the people, to help him sell his lots is quite worthy of criticism.

The outstanding fact in the whole unsavory business is that you, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, haven't had anything to say at all about where YOUR buildings shall be located.

If you want Wall's site all well and good. If you don't want his site, then you have the right to reject his site.

MAIL CARRIER HURT IN FALL

Arthur Winfree, an Emeryville mail carrier, who resides in Stage, was rendered unconscious Monday night when he fell into a sewer ditch at the corner of Eureka and Everett streets. He was found by Fred Wellman, who was attracted by the moaning of the injured man.

Winfree was removed to the Roosevelt Hospital in Berkeley, where it was found he was suffering from a broken rib and the dislocation of several fingers, besides numerous bruises. The sewer ditch was eight feet in depth.

OUR ATTITUDE

The attitude of the Daily News in the City Hall site matter is this:

We do not believe that the people of Richmond want their City Hall located on Wall's site.

We believe that they should have the right to say where it should be located.

We are not pulling for any one real estate firm.

If the people want the City Hall on the Harbor Center Land Company's site it should be placed there.

If they want it some place else, it is their right to place it there.

The attempt to place the question before the people was strenuously fought. If the council thought that the voters were in favor of Wall's site, that election would have been held. But the council had a pretty fair idea of what the voters thought of the site. Thus—no election.

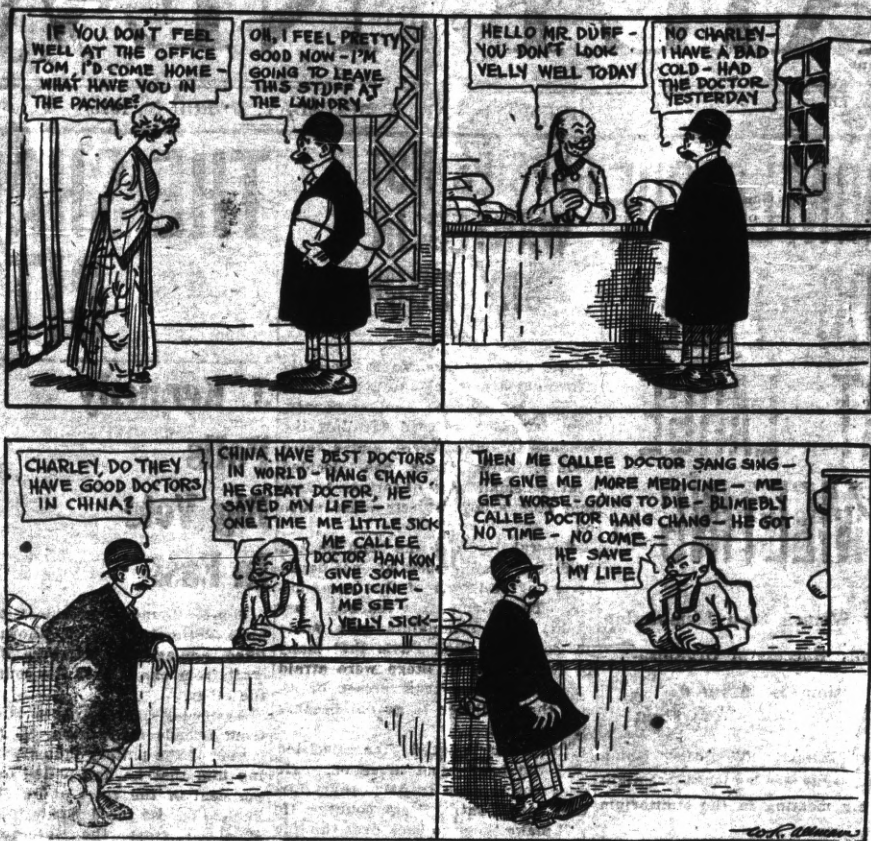

Even if the Supreme Court upholds the Appellate Court in the ruling that the voters have nothing to say about "administrative" matters, such as the location of public buildings, parks and playgrounds, there is nothing to hinder the people from casting their ballots for the location of the City Hall.

Men should be elected to the council who believe that the voter has enough gray matter to say where his building should be placed.

The majority of the present council believes with Marcel Cerr, who, representing the city before the Supreme Court, said that while the average voter was as honest as he, the average voter didn't have near as much sense.

CLARK IMPROVES: IS EXPECTED TO RECOVER

At a late hour last night improvement was noted in the condition of Attorney C. A. Clark, well known local attorney, who was stricken with paralysis shortly after eating breakfast yesterday morning. Dr. Blake, the attending physician, is of the opinion the stroke was brought on by a slight blood clot on the brain. Clark's vocal powers have been affected, and the stroke rendered him speechless. Before the day was over he was able to flap a few words.

Dr. Blake states he has every reason to believe that the attack is not a serious one, and that his patient will recover in the near future without any permanent ill effects.

PRINTING TO BE REPORTED ON MONDAY

At the meeting of the city council last Monday night the members of the Finance Committee will be ready to make their report on their investigation of the overcharges of the Record-Herald on city advertising during the four years that the sheet has held the contract. The report was to have been presented at the meeting last Monday night, but was not ready in its entirety because of the inability of City Attorney D. J. Hall to go into the legal phases of the question, owing to his time being taken up with sidewalk litigation for the past two weeks or so.

Ha! is now delving into the statute in an effort to determine what legal steps can be taken to compel the proprietors of the evening sheet to return the thousands they have robbed the city of. He expects to conclude his task during the present week.

The report of the Finance Committee is expected to create a sensation, inasmuch as members of the committee say they have conclusive proof of overcharges to the extent of several thousands of dollars on city advertising.

ROAD TO FILM FAME NOT AS SHORT OR EASY AS IT USED TO BE, SAYS STAR

Marguerite Courtot

"The moving pictures are no longer a short cut to fame and fortune. It's harder to get into the 'movies' than the legitimate theater. Exceptional beauty or exceptional talent are the only keys that open the door of the 'movie' studio."

This is the message Marguerite Courtot sends to young girls who are yearning to acquire fame and a Mary Pickford salary in the film world without giving beauty or talent in exchange.

$7.50 WORTH OF GOLD IS STOLEN

Chief of Police Charles Walker last night branded as false the report printed in a local morning sheet that burglars had stolen a total of $127 worth of dental gold from the office of Dr. W. E. O'Brien in the First National Bank building and the office of Dr. W. F. Kelly in the Mechanics Bank building. The amount of gold stolen from both offices, Walker states, will not total more than $7.50.

Statements that there are burglar alarms in the dentists' offices are also false. The robbery, which occurred on Sunday afternoon, was made easy through the fact that no one is in either of the buildings at that time.

ORGANIZED LABOR

LABOR MAKES ALL

Labor omnia vincit—
The goal of all who toil,
The hope of every worker,
The children of the soil,
Is truth in every accent,
For what can stem the tide
When Labor stands awakened,
And brushes greed aside?

Labor omnia facit—
For this it only gains
A pittance from the masters,
The rest with them remains.
But when the workers say it,
And all as one unite,
The pressure brought upon it
Will kill the cursed blight
That steals the workers' products
And chains them to the wheel
Of profit, greed and rapine,
While those workers starve or steal.

Labor omnia facit—
Labor makes it all,
Labor omnia vincit—
Labor conquers all.

B. T. CONVENTION TO MEET IN S. F. NEXT MONDAY

The first of many big labor conventions to be held in San Francisco during the Exposition year will open in San Francisco next Monday, when the State Building Trades Council of California will meet in annual session, with delegates from every part of the state in attendance.

The sessions of the convention will be held in the auditorium of the Building Trades Temple, Fourteenth and Guerrero streets, and will be strictly executive; only delegates and those holding membership in labor unions to be permitted to attend. Representatives of the press, together with the general public, will be excluded from the convention, according to announcement made by Olat A. Trevelino, secretary of the State Building Trades Council of California, who says that this rule will be strictly adhered to.

Unlike most conventions, the election of officers will not be a feature of the convention of the State Building Trades Council of California, as it is a foregone conclusion that all incumbent officers will be re-elected. The convention will be presided over by President F. H. McCarthy.

One of the important things to be considered by the convention is the raising of a fund for the defense of M. A. Schmidt and David Kaplan, who were recently taken into custody and incarcerated at Los Angeles, where they are now awaiting trial on a murder charge growing out of the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case. The S. F. Building Trades Council has taken the initiative in the movement to give Schmidt and Kaplan the moral and financial support of organized labor. Already this move has received the official sanction of the S. F. Labor Council.

It is anticipated that the convention of the State Building Trades Council will give its unanimous endorsement to the plan to render every assistance needed to give Kaplan and Schmidt a fair and impartial trial.

The local Building Trades Council has prepared an elaborate program of entertainment for visiting delegates and their friends. There will be an automobile trip about the city and a day and a night at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, a banquet and a theater party.

The local Plumbers' Union will be represented at the convention by David Fenton; J. H. Duns, the Cement Workers; Fred W. Heckman, the Teamsters; W. M. Pennington, the Building Trades Council.

Pennington is instructed to vote for the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution of the State Building Trades Council.

The Folly of a Life of Crime

Sunday, March 14th Only Point Theater
Thrills upon thrills, the very scene of absorbing melodrama. Wonderful six-reel feature production. This story is founded upon the life of the famous Evans and Sengling gang of California, bandits who dominated some 25 years ago in this state. Their lives of crime which included the holding up of stages, overland trains, their battles with sheriffs and United States marshals and posse, and their subsequent capture, their trial, conviction and sentence to the penitentiary and the death of one of their gang in the battle with the officers. As a fitting commentary to this period of outlawry is shown pictures of the prison at Folsom, where the career of the gang came to its usual end. Nothing more powerful in the way of a presentation against the utter uselessness of an evil life could be shown, and criminologists, sociological experts, who have seen the picture, have given their unstinted approval of its value as a great lesson to old and young who might be led away by evil passions or companions. Aside from the succession of thrills that are seen in this camera masterpiece, there is shown a wealth of wonderful California scenery that probably surpasses anything that up to this date has been submitted to the public.

THE SPORT LOG BOOK

MARTINEZ STILL THINKS IT HAS A CHANCE WITH LOCALS

Manager Joe McNamara, Martinez baseball magnate, came down and looked us over Sunday. He is just the same old diamond enthusiast as of yore. Naturally he thinks he will have an unbeatable club this year, and to this end he already has numerous wires out for a bunch of fast boys.

McNamara admitted the Elks looked awful strong against Lowenberg's nine.

"But just wait until Richmond tangles with Martinez," quoth Joe. "It's liable not to be a 2 to 1 score, and Richmond is liable not to be on the long end of it."

McNamara has his own ideas about showing his comparative strength. He has a hunch he can beat the All Stars, and beat them more decisively than the Elks did. Just to prove this contention he has arranged a game with Lowenberg's outfit for March 28.

Martinez fans are among the most loyal found anywhere. They have forgotten the severe drubbings the Elks tacked on to their boys last year. They contend that last year is last year, and what Martinez will do to the Elks this season is something that the Elks and their followers will not like.

Of course, Richmond fans take all this Martinez confidence stuff with several grains of salt. Of course everyone here knows that it isn't in the cards for Martinez to ever beat the Elks. But the only way to prove this to the satisfaction or dissatisfaction of Martinez fans, is to arrange

Louie Enjoys Himself Here

To judge from the following from last night's San Francisco Bulletin, Louie Lowenberg enjoyed himself here Sunday. Lamp the following:

"Not since the Hot Lunch League disbanded for the season has Louie Lowenberg had such a good time as he had at Richmond Sunday, and the Wilelands lost, to boot. But there was a brass band out to greet the suds boys, and there was a large crowd to cheer, and everybody gave Louie a good time—even the umpire, but we will forget them. The Wilelands lost a 3 to 1 battle. Next Sunday they go to Santa Clara.

a three-game series with the County Seaters a little later in the season, and beat 'em so bad they will never dare to talk baseball to Richmond again.

OAKLAND TO SEND ITS BEST CLUB OUT HERE

It will be no scrub nine that Oakland will send in against the Elks on the local lot next Sunday. Manager Ty Christian and Bill Luce had a little chat over the wire between Richmond and Pleasanton yesterday, and Christian stated he would send the cream of his talent here to compete against the home guards.

It is expected there will be a large delegation of Oakland fans make the trip to this city Sunday. Sunday morning the Oaks play the White Sox on the Oakland lot. Before that game is over it will be announced by "Foghorn" Murphy that the Oaks are to play in Richmond in the afternoon. Preparations are being made by Manager Luce to handle a record-breaking crowd. Not only will Oakland fans follow their club here, but every man, woman and child in Richmond who is interested in baseball will be out to watch the Elks perform.

While the Oakland first team is after the Elks' scalps, Christian's second team will play the Pleasanton team on the Pleasanton lot.

Another boy that is in for a good season is "Butch" Woodbury. Woodbury hit good Sunday, and he stood up there at bat with all the confidence in the world. Woodbury is naturally a .290 hitter. He slumped along toward the latter part of last season, but he has regained all his old time pep. There is no bushier around here who can get down to first base any faster than Woodbury can, and don't you forget it.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE—BY CONDON

THIS INTRODUCES ONE "BRICK" DEVEREAUX

This is introducing "Brick" Devereaux.

That is, we introduce him to the few who don't know him, and for those who do know him we'll just renew your old acquaintanceship with him.

Devereaux is the peppery leader of the Richmond Elks. His middle name is Ginger. Rumor has it that "Brick" and Noah of Arc fame were pals a couple of thousands of years B. C. But "Brick" is like a fig or a good violin, or regular whiskey. He improves with age.

"Brick," in spite of his gray hairs and the paunch that is starting to swell, despite his efforts, says he is in for his best season. We believe Brick. There is no doubting his veracity. He hits the feathers early every night, gets his regular work-out and keeps himself in first class condition.

"Brick" is known wherever baseball is played. It is safe to say he has played on more teams in his time than any man who ever got anywhere in baseball.

If the wishes of the Richmond fans count for anything he will not leave the local club for some time to come. "Brick" is the kind of a baseball leader the fans want. He crabs, and crabs loud and long when he thinks he has a crab coming. He wouldn't lay down with his club if he was playing the Boston Braves. That's Devereaux. Consider your self introduced.

SPORTING GOULASH

"Wix" Melkie will be out again Sunday, to be ready to go on the firing line if needed. Luce will have a choice trio of twirlers in Burns, Gordon and Melkie. He figures that trio has about as much class as any three twirlers that Ty Christian can trot out.

There will be a rush on the press box when the Oaks play out here Sunday. In addition to the local scribes, typewriter leaguers from both Oakland papers and probably two or three from San Francisco, will be here. Bill Crosby of the Tribune has sent word that he will be among those present.

IF "CUTTY" CUNNINGHAM PLAYS TWO OR THREE MORE GAMES LIKE THAT OF LAST SUNDAY, BILL LUCE WILL BE AN EXCEEDINGLY LUCKY MANAGER IF HE CAN HOLD ON TO THE EX-PORTLAND OUTFIELDER. CUNNINGHAM ONLY SCORED BOTH OF RICHMOND'S RUNS. ONLY GOT ONE TWO-BASE SMACK OFF HOLLES AND ONLY ACCEPTED FIVE CHANCES IN THE OUTFIELD WITHOUT A BOBBLE.

Jimmy Reardon, who caught for Lowenberg, is not in mid-season form yet, as evidenced by the two wild pegs he uncorked to second base in Sunday's game. Usually Reardon's pegging is almost perfect. At that he caught a couple of the local would-be base stealers. Reardon had a tryout with Venice last season, and could go to two clubs in the Northwest League this season if he chose to.

Speaking of catchers, Richmond fans are starting to realize what a steady boy they have in Cleek. Right now we put ourselves on record as saying that there are few catchers in this neck of the woods who have anything on Cleek. He knows how to get 'em down to second. To judge from the way Cliff stood up and looked the pitcher's offerings over Sunday, he is going to be among the elite in hitting this season.

Have you figured how much credit Richmond has coming for beating Lowenberg's outfit Sunday? Lowenberg, who is a rare judge of baseball talent, brought a gang here that he thought would walk through anything in bush circles in the state. He was the most surprised man in the world when he found the Elks shaded his outfit just a little. Six of the boys the genial Louie brought here are under contract to clubs in organized ball, and the rest of them have been up in class A or B ball in their time.

MARTINEZ CLUB ON SHORT END

MARTINEZ, March 9.—In the cleanest game of basketball ever played on the M. A. C. courts, the California Arrows defeated the local boys by the score of 25 to 18. With one defeat to their credit by the score of 30 to 25 the Arrows went into the game to win and the result was one of the best, fastest, games ever seen on any court.

PRACTICE STARTS THIS AFTERNOON

Regular baseball practice will be started by the boys on the local club again this afternoon. It is the intention of Manager Luce to get his colts out for practice three times a week. Prior to Sunday's game the boys were not able to get any infield workouts at all. They had one afternoon on the diamond, and then all they did was hit at a few.

The three-day-a-week practice scheme will be continued throughout the entire season. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons have been designated as the practice dates.

"Dutch" Rhumans, Luce's new shortstop, will do. The fans are a unit in this opinion. Rhumans is not only a speedy little infielder, but a sweet pill cluster. He drove out a couple Sunday.
